ISC2024 Conference Program

The I-REC Standard Conference (ISC) 2024 is an event that provides the best platform for exchanging expert knowledge on tracking and attribute markets, and the use of I-REC worldwide. The central theme of the conference is: 'Standardizing Global Attribute Markets.'

The ISC2024 will focus on market development in Brazil and Latin America, as well as the broader Middle East, China, Southeast Asia, and Africa. A core element of the conference will be evaluating, reviewing, and discussing the increasingly relevant I-REC(E) market. Beyond this, the conference will provide opportunities to learn about hydrogen tracking and policy measures like RFNBO/CBAM. It will also provide information on Carbon Dioxide Removal tracking, market growth, innovative tracking, and the value of these markets. This is all intertwined with international policy and corporate renewables procurement.

On 1 July we offer all registered delegates the opportunity to attend the pre-conference sessions for free.
